Anti-Counterfeiting Product Policy

Counterfeiting of semiconductor products is a growing problem in the global technology industry. To ensure that the products you purchased are genuine BRAVE Semiconductor products, we strongly encourage our customers to only purchase products from BRAVE Semiconductor or from BRAVE Semiconductor 's authorized distributors. BRAVE Semiconductor will not provide any warranty coverage or other assistance for products purchased from unauthorized sources.

If you have any question about the genuineness of the product you purchased, please contact your local BRAVE Semiconductor Sales Representative and ask them to forward the case to our Customer Quality Engineering department for confirmation of the product authenticity. Please include any relevant materials related to the purchase of the suspect product, such as a copy of the purchase order, distributor contact information, and any pictures of the products, labels, and shipping cartons.

BRAVE Semiconductor is taking strong measures to protect our customers and ourselves, and is contacting relevant agencies to investigate counterfeit product cases. Thank you for your cooperation and support.
